

Additional Stock

- Delivered to site ahead of your event.
- Correct Consumables for the units hired.
- Hassle free ordering.
- Can be provided on a sale or return basis, only pay for what you use.

Extra stock of consumables can be provided to keep your units ready for use for the duration of your hire. If you have not opted for our full attendant service we advise extra stock is available should it be needed.

All of our units arrive fully stocked with the consumables required. But for events of a longer duration and large footfall it is likely this will need to be topped up over the duration of your event. We can provide the correct consumables for each unit on hire, saving you the hassle of shopping around and most likely buying items that do not suit our dispensers. What's more is this can be provided on a sale or return basis, so you only pay for what you use (15% restocking charge for returned items).

Our experienced team can advise on stock levels needed based on duration and expected guests.
